survive a data security breach

When an SME suffers a cyber attack, any loss of personal information can be complex and time consuming to deal with.

New EU regulations will mean heavy fines if you get it wrong. The effect on your business and its brand can be disastrous.

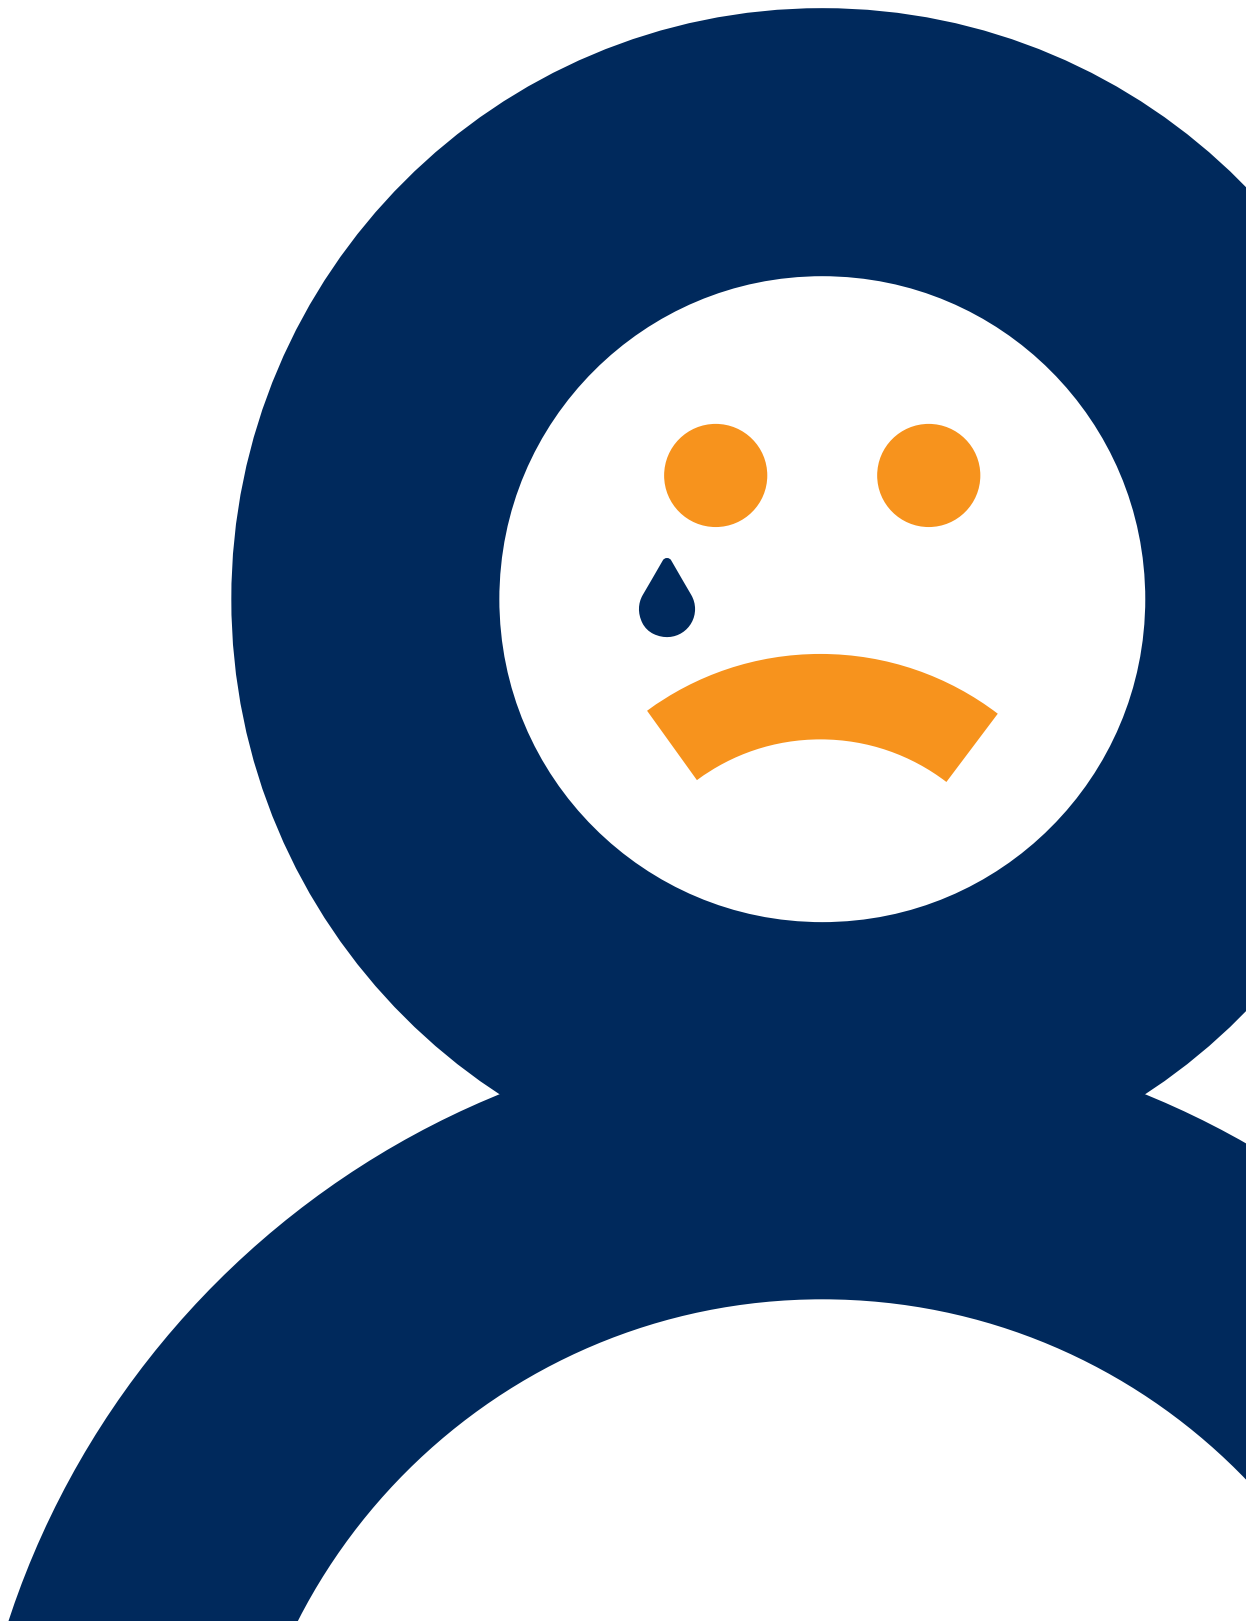

'Cyber Recovery' is an insurance policy which provides you with a Cyber Emergency Response Team (CERT), to manage the crisis.

We will provide forensic and technical services to assist with any regulatory investigation and incident management.

We will also cover the cost of certain financial damages, penalties and fines, arising from a Regulatory Investigation, up to the agreed limits, where insurable under UK law.

We will arrange for a Cyber Expert to contact you wherever you are in the UK.

Our helpline is available 24/7, 365 days a year.

Cyber Recovery is an insurance policy which provides expert advice following a covered data security breach - in which personal information is copied, transmitted, viewed or stolen by a third party unauthorised to do so.

It will not cover more than the first data breach discovered in the period of insurance or if the data breach occurs outside of the UK. Certain other exclusions apply; full details of which are included in the insurance policy.

Any SME business will hold personal data and will need to comply with the Data Protection Act and consider the risk of the data being lost or stolen. As part of managing this risk, we will give you a checklist of ideas to review, which in conjunction with this product, will help you to protect your business.
