The Litigation Advantage Scheme

A combination of a CFA and ATE insurance from Temple Legal Protection gives you and your client the confidence to pursue their claim, without the fear of having to pay any costs orders.

With fixed premiums and fully delegated authority, this allows you to be able to plan ahead with your client regarding the level of deductions from their damages, thus strengthening your relationship with them. Arranging cover early helps minimise your client's exposure to litigation risk.

With cover from as little as £250, our Litigation Advantage Clinical Negligence Scheme offers law firms the broadest level of authority to run cases to trial. Our scheme, backed by an A rated insurer, offers many benefits including:

- No set up costs
- Competitive premiums
- Simple Online Policy Issuing System for easy administration
- Direct access to underwriters for prompt decisions on top -ups and referrals
- Minimal on-line reporting requirements
- Delegated authority to run cases to trial without obtaining consent on each case
- Fully retrospective cover
- Full Part 36 cover, including interlocutory appeals
- Deferred, stepped, fully insured premiums
- Access to disbursement funding, through Temple's own funding company.

The next step: How Can I Arrange a Scheme?

Talk to us. In order to advise you on the best ATE insurance, we need to understand your needs. During our initial conversation, we will discuss your firm's caseload, your procedures and experience, explain how ATE insurance from Temple can help support you in your Clinical Negligence litigation and answer any questions you may have. We are happy to talk to you over the phone or in person at your offices.

Welcome to Temple Legal Protection

Here at Temple we recognise that the complexities involved in clinical negligence makes it different to other types of personal litigation. It can be costly and sometimes unpredictable which is why claimants need an ATE provider that understands the dynamics of this type of litigation and will support cases through the highs and lows.

Clinical Negligence lawyers are increasingly aware of the importance of ATE insurance for their clients' cases - and they are correct because they have a professional obligation and duty to do so. Outcome 1.12 of the Client Care section of the SRA Code of Conduct clearly requires lawyers ensure that "clients are in a position to make informed decisions about the services they need, how their matter will be handled and the options available to them."

With our head office in Guildford and a regional office in Bristol, our team of legal and insurance professionals is responsible for all aspects of the insurance process, including creating policy wordings, calculating premium rates, underwriting non-standard risks and managing claims.

In practice this allows us to respond quickly and efficiently to your needs and to design bespoke schemes tailored to your requirements.
