Beazley Healthcare Claims

The provision of healthcare is fraught with litigation, and we seek to partner with our insureds to alleviate anxiety and uncertainty that a claim can generate. Most of our team members are former healthcare liability defense attorneys, which allows us to navigate the complex medical and legal issues inherent to healthcare professional liability claims. Our background and experience provides us with a deep understanding of the needs of our insureds and allows us to take a proactive and real world approach to claims.

Differentiators

- Flexibility – We can tailor our claims service to the needs of any insured. For smaller insureds, we can handle claims in-house. For larger clients, we work collaboratively with an insured's internal risk and claims management teams.
- Partnership – We endeavor to work with our insureds at each step of the claim. We have learned that the best claims outcomes result from a team based approach where the insured and insurer are actively involved.
- Pragmatic – We take a practical, real world approach to managing claims rather than “ticking boxes”. We understand that no two claims are alike and each claim presents unique challenges requiring individualized case strategies.

- Responsive – Claims professionals are responsive and transparent throughout the process and demonstrate the experience and insight required to resolve claims efficiently.
- Empowered – Claims managers are empowered and able to make prompt decisions. This allows us to be flexible and nimble in reacting to material changes.
- Assurance – Close interaction with our underwriters to ensure that we fully understand our products and the needs of our insureds.
