

Power and Utilities Insurance

AIG offers insurance solutions for both traditional and alternative energy power operations.

AIG has world-class underwriting, claims and engineering expertise in all areas of the energy industry. We're one of the largest insurers of regulated and non-regulated utilities, merchant fleets, private equity portfolios, international power producers and national power companies in the world. We understand the unique property damage and business interruption risks particular to generating power, and relentlessly stay up-to-date on the latest technological advances for the benefit of our clients.
