

Plaintiff Katherine Cutrone, individually and as representative of a class of participants and beneficiaries of the Allstate 401(k) Savings Plan (the “Plan”), brings this action under 29 U.S.C. §1132(a)(2) and (3) on behalf of the Plan against Defendants the Allstate Corporation, the Allstate 401(k) Committee, the Allstate 401(k) Administrative Committee, the Allstate 401(k) Investment Committee, and these committees’ members (“Defendants”) for breach of fiduciary duties under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act, 29 U.S.C. §§1001-1461 (“ERISA”). Based on personal knowledge and information obtained from investigation by counsel and discovery in this matter, Plaintiff alleges as follows:

INTRODUCTION

1. Defendants are fiduciaries to the Plan with exclusive authority to select the Plan’s investment options. The Plan’s participants, who are current and former Allstate employees, can invest their retirement savings in any of the funds that Defendants select for the Plan.

2. As fiduciaries, Defendants have the duty to prudently select the Plan’s investment options and to regularly monitor Plan investments and remove ones that become imprudent. Throughout the Class Period, Defendants breached their fiduciary duties by failing to prudently select and monitor the Plan’s investment options. Specifically, they loaded the plan with poorly performing targeted retirement-age funds called the Northern Trust Focus Target Retirement Trusts (“Northern Trust Focus Funds” or “the Funds”), and then kept these Funds on the Plan’s investment menu throughout the Class Period despite their continued underperformance.

3. The Northern Trust Focus Funds are “target date funds” designed to achieve certain investment results based on an investor’s anticipated retirement date (the “target date”). Target date funds have become increasingly popular retirement savings options. According to the Wall Street Journal, as of the end of 2016, target date funds held 21% of all 401(k) assets in the United States. In 2018, at least $734 billion of retirement savings were invested in target date funds. Given their popularity, retirement plan fiduciaries have hundreds of different target date funds to choose from when selecting target date options for their plans.

4. Despite a market flush with better-performing alternatives, Defendants selected the Northern Trust Focus Funds to be the Plan's target date asset class investment option. The Northern Trust Focus Funds have significantly underperformed their benchmark indices and comparable target date funds since Northern Trust launched them in 2010. For nearly a decade, the Northern Trust Focus Funds have performed worse than 70% to 90% of peer funds.

5. Still, Defendants refuse to remove the Northern Trust Focus Funds from the Plan's menu of retirement investment options. Rather than remove these poorly performing funds, Defendants have even selected the Northern Trust Focus Funds as the Plan's default investment option. Plan participants are notified, "If a participant does not make an investment election, employee contributions will be invested in the Target Retirement Date Fund that corresponds with the participant's birth date and assumes a retirement date and account distribution at age 65." The only "Target Retirement Date Fund[s]" offered by Allstate are the Northern Trust Focus Funds.

6. Defendants' imprudent decision to keep offering, and enrolling participants by default in, the Northern Trust Focus Funds in the Plan has had a large and tangible impact on Plan participants' retirement accounts. Based on an analysis of data compiled by Morningstar, Inc., Plaintiff projects the Plan lost upwards of $65 million in retirement savings since 2014 because of Defendants' decision to retain the Northern Trust Focus Funds in the Plan instead of removing them.

7. To remedy Defendants' breach of fiduciary duty, Plaintiff individually, and as representative of a class of participants and beneficiaries of the Plan, brings this action on behalf of the Plan under 29 U.S.C. §1132(a)(2) and (3) to enforce Defendants' personal liability under 29 U.S.C. §1109(a) to make good to the Plan all losses resulting from each breach of fiduciary duty occurring from October 30, 2014 through December 31, 2019 (the "Class Period").¹ In addition, Plaintiff seeks such other equitable or remedial relief for the Plan as the Court may deem appropriate.

8. Plaintiff did not have knowledge of all material facts (including, among other things, comparisons of the Plan's investment performance relative to other available investment alternatives) necessary to understand that Defendants breached their fiduciary duties and engaged in other unlawful conduct in violation of ERISA until shortly before filing this Complaint. Further, Plaintiff does not have actual knowledge of the specifics of Defendants' decision-making processes with respect to the Plan, including Defendants' processes for monitoring and removing Plan investments, because this information is solely within the possession of Defendants prior to discovery. For purposes of this Complaint, Plaintiff has drawn reasonable inferences regarding these processes based upon (among other things) the facts set forth herein.

PARTIES

9. Katherine Cutrone was a participant in the Plan, as defined in 29 U.S.C. §1002(7), from 2010 until the spring of 2019. Plaintiff Cutrone suffered harm by investing in the Plan's poorly performing investment options, including the Northern Trust Focus 2040 Fund during the Class Period.

10. Defendant The Allstate Corporation (the "Company" or "Allstate") is a Delaware corporation with its principal place of business located in Northbrook, Illinois. Allstate is the sponsor of the Plan within the meaning of ERISA Section 3(16)(B), 29 U.S.C. §1002(16)(B) and fiduciary of the Plan. Among other things, Allstate is responsible for the general administration and management of the Plan and for communicating with the Plan's participants, and it names its employee as the Plan Administrator. The Northern Trust Company holds the Plan assets as its trustee.

11. The 401(k) Administrative Committee administers the Plan. The Administrative Committee is located at Allstate headquarters at 2775 Sanders Road, Northbrook, IL 60062.

12. The 401(k) Investment Committee authorizes the Plan's investment transactions. The Investment Committee is located at Allstate headquarters at 2775 Sanders Road, Northbrook, IL 60062.

13. The members of the Administrative and Investment Committees are appointed by the 401(k) Committee. The 401(k) Committee is located at Allstate headquarters at 2775 Sanders Road, Northbrook, IL 60062.

14. The 401(k) Committee, the 401(k) Administrative Committee, and the 401(k) Investment Committee are collectively referred to as the "Benefit Committees." At all relevant times, the Benefit Committees and their current and former members were named fiduciaries under the Plan and/or fiduciaries of the Plan under 29 U.S.C. § 1002(21)(A) because they exercised discretionary authority or discretionary control respecting management of the Plan.

15. Because Plaintiff is currently unaware of the identities of the individual members of the Benefit Committees, those individuals are collectively named as Defendants Does 1-30. Plaintiff will substitute the real names of the Does when they become known to her. To the extent the Committees delegated any of their fiduciary functions to another person or entity, the nature and extent of which has not been disclosed to Plaintiff, the person or entity to which the function was delegated is also a fiduciary under 29 U.S.C. § 1002(21)(A), and also alleged to be a Doe Defendant.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

16. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this action under 28 U.S.C. §1331, 29 U.S.C. §1132(a)(2) and (3), and 29 U.S.C. §1132(e)(1).

17. This Court has general personal jurisdiction over Defendant Allstate, which is incorporated in this District, and over any other defendants that reside in this District. This Court has specific personal jurisdiction over all Defendants because they took the actions described herein in this District through the management of the Plan.

18. Venue is proper in this District under 29 U.S.C. §1132(e)(2) and 28 U.S.C. §1391(b) because Defendants reside in this District, Defendants conduct business in this District, and the harm complained of herein emanated from this District.

ERISA'S FIDUCIARY STANDARDS

19. ERISA §§ 404(a)(1)(A) and (B), 29 U.S.C. §§ 1104(a)(1)(A) and (B), provides, in pertinent part, that a fiduciary shall discharge his duties with respect to a plan solely in the interest of the participants and beneficiaries, for the exclusive purpose of providing benefits to participants and their beneficiaries, and with the care, skill, prudence, and diligence under the circumstances then prevailing that a prudent man acting in a like capacity and familiar with such matters would use in the conduct of an enterprise of a like character and with like aims.

20. These fiduciary duties under ERISA §§ 404(a)(1)(A) and (B) are referred to as the duties of loyalty, exclusive purpose and prudence.

21. “[T]he duties charged to an ERISA fiduciary are ‘the highest known to the law.’” George v. Kraft Foods Glob., Inc., 814 F. Supp. 2d 832, 852 (N.D. Ill. 2011). ERISA fiduciaries must “act in good faith as an objectively prudent fiduciary would act, not simply as a prudent layperson would act.” Chesmore v. All. Holdings, Inc., 886 F. Supp. 2d 1007, 1041 (W.D. Wis. 2012), aff’d 829 F.3d 803 (7th Cir. 2016).

22. As part of their fiduciary duties here, Defendants have “a continuing duty to monitor [Plan] investments and remove imprudent ones” that exists “separate and apart from the [fiduciary’s] duty to exercise prudence in selecting investments.” Tibble v. Edison Int’l, 575 U.S. 523, 523 (2015). “A plaintiff may allege that a fiduciary breached the duty of prudence by failing to properly monitor investments and remove imprudent ones.” Id. If an investment is imprudent, Defendants “must dispose of it within a reasonable time.” Id. (citation omitted). Accordingly, fiduciaries must vigorously and independently investigate and monitor each of the Plan’s investment options with the skill of a prudent investor.

23. ERISA § 405 renders Plan fiduciaries liable for the breaches of other fiduciaries under certain circumstances, such as when a fiduciary knowingly participates in or conceals the breach of another fiduciary, if the fiduciary’s own breach enables the breach by the other fiduciary, or if the fiduciary is aware of the other fiduciary’s breach yet makes no reasonable effort to correct the breach.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

I. THE PLAN

24. The Plan is a profit-sharing plan that includes a “qualified cash or deferred arrangement” as described in Section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code, I.R.C. §401(k) (1986) (hereinafter denoted as “the Code”) and is subject to the provisions of ERISA. The Plan is established and maintained under a written document in accordance with 29 U.S.C. §1102(a). Defendant Allstate is the sponsor of the Plan. The 401(k) Administrative Committee administers the plan, but all the Benefit Committees have a role in how the 401(k) Plan is administered and what investment choices are made in it.

25. The Plan provides for retirement income for tens of thousands of Allstate employees, former employees and their beneficiaries (the Plan “participants”). A participant’s retirement account balance primarily depends on contributions made on behalf of each employee by his or her employer, Allstate’s matching contributions and the performance of investment options net of fees and expenses. Accordingly, poor investment performance can significantly impair the value of a participant’s account. Over time, even seemingly small differences in performance can result in significant difference in the amount of savings available at retirement. Defendants exclusively control the selection and retention of the Plan’s investment options.

26. The Plan has over $5 billion in assets under management, with more than $763 million is invested among 11 Northern Trust Focus Funds.

27. With over $5 billion in assets, the Plan has tremendous leverage to demand and receive superior investment products and services. Unfortunately, Defendants did not effectively use that leverage to identify and select prudent target date options for Plan participants.

II. ALLSTATE’S BREACH OF FIDUCIARY DUTY

28. As Plan fiduciaries, Defendants were responsible for monitoring the Plan’s investment options. Defendants failed to prudently perform this function. Defendants selected and then maintained a suite of proprietary target date funds – the Focus Funds – that were chronic poor performers. For almost a decade, Defendants have failed to remove the Funds from the Plan despite their abysmal underperformance.

29. Defendants began offering the Northern Trust Focus Funds² to Plan participants in 2011. The Funds have target retirement dates ranging from 2010 to 2060. The Northern Trust Focus Funds are the only target date retirement investing options in the Plan. Participants in the Plan who want to invest in a target date strategy have no choices other than the Northern Trust Focus Funds.

30. Defendants also selected the Northern Trust Focus Funds as the Plan's default investment options. That is, if participants do not make investment fund elections, the Plan automatically invests their contributions, along with any matching contributions and/or earnings, in one of the Northern Trust Focus Funds based on their age.

31. As of December 31, 2019, the Plan identified the following Northern Trust Focus Funds along with the amount of Plan assets invested in each fund:³

² These funds are organized as a collective investment trust (as opposed to a registered investment company or mutual fund). Collective investment trusts are subject to either state or federal banking regulations but are exempt from regulation by the Securities and Exchange Commission and the securities regulations of any state or other jurisdiction. Accordingly, public information is not as readily available for collective investment trusts as it would be for mutual funds. For information to support the allegations in the Complaint, Plaintiff has relied primarily on Department of Labor filings and data published by Morningstar.

³ Because the class period starts before the end of 2014, the 2014 values listed here are the reported assets as of the end of December 31, 2013, as disclosed in Form 11 filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission on June 6, 2014. The 2014 values are used in later sections to illustrate the economic losses to plan participants. However, these values do not account for fresh inflows into the funds from new employees, which likely occurred because the vast majority of the Northern Trust Focus Funds have multiples of more assets in 2019 compared to 2014 (with only the 2010 through 2020 funds shrinking). Thus, the real damages for members of the Class, when including new employees who joined these plans after 2014, are likely far higher. Plaintiff has also not calculated damages for the Northern Trust Focus 2060 Fund, which was added to the Plan only two years ago, and where information on returns is not yet available. But because of the poor performance of all the Northern Trust Focus Funds, the inclusion of the Northern Trust Focus 2060 Fund almost certainly has resulted in additional damages.

Plan Option	2019 Value	2014 Value
Northern Trust Focus 2010 Fund	$5,548,990	$13,074,743
Northern Trust Focus 2015 Fund	$21,517,548	$66,438,275
Northern Trust Focus 2020 Fund	$101,182,290	$105,958,407
Northern Trust Focus 2025 Fund	$145,734,031	$ 89,379,411
Northern Trust Focus 2030 Fund	$125,960,360	$56,079,197
Northern Trust Focus 2035 Fund	$98,270,534	$37,582,903
Northern Trust Focus 2040 Fund	$80,949,237	$23,519,554
Northern Trust Focus 2045 Fund	$63,179,898	$14,448,141
Northern Trust Focus 2050 Fund	$47,595,153	$8,018,439
Northern Trust Focus 2055 Fund	$50,074,951	$7,704,119

32. Retirement plan fiduciaries typically offer target date investing options through a suite of funds bundled by a single investment adviser (here, Northern Trust). Since Defendants offer the Funds to the Plan as a suite, they use the same selection and monitoring process for each of the Northern Trust Focus Funds.

33. Defendants' selection and monitoring process for the Northern Trust Focus Funds has been deficient. Before deciding to present the Northern Trust Focus Funds to the Plan's participants in 2013, any prudent ERISA fiduciary adhering to a rigorous investment selection process would have compared the Funds' performance with the performance of established target date benchmarks. By 2013, when Defendants first put the Northern Trust Focus Funds in the Plan, the Funds had a track record of poor performance compared to both sets of indexes. In fact, since Northern Trust created the Funds in 2010, they have underperformed relative to both benchmarks.

34. The Northern Trust Focus Funds also had a record of underperforming relative to comparable target date funds. To measure each fund's investment performance relative to its peers, Morningstar places each of the Northern Trust Focus Funds into a specific target date Morningstar Category⁴ that includes hundreds of other funds pursuing the same target retirement date investment strategy. Morningstar classifies the target date funds offered by American Funds, T. Rowe Price and Vanguard (collectively, the “Comparator Funds”) within the same Category as the Northern Trust Focus Funds. Each investment adviser for the Comparators Funds is an industry leader capable of providing target date strategies to large 401(k) plans like the Plan here. Each of the Comparator Funds outperformed the Northern Trust Focus Funds between 2010 and 2013. Still, Defendants selected Northern Trust for the Plan instead of the Comparator Funds.

35. Defendants’ decision to select the Northern Trust Focus Funds as the Plan’s target date strategy investment options resulted, collectively speaking, in a swift and devastating blow to Plaintiff’s and other Plan participants’ retirement accounts. In 2011-2013, the first three years that the Plan offered the Northern Trust Focus Funds, those Funds underperformed relative to the Comparator Funds. Predictably, Northern Trust Focus Funds continued underperforming throughout the class period. Since their inception in 2010, the Northern Trust Focus Funds have experienced nearly a decade of continuous underperformance.

36. Still, Defendants have failed to remove the Northern Trust Focus Funds from the Plan. During the proposed Class Period here, approximately two years ago, Defendants even added another poorly performing Northern Trust Focus Fund as one of the default investment options: the Northern Trust Focus 2060 Fund. A reasonable investigation by Defendants would have revealed the Focus Funds’ chronic underperformance and prompted Defendants to remove and replace them with superior options.

37. To this day, the investment performance of each of the eleven Northern Trust Focus Funds has continued its downward spiral to the bottom of their respective Morningstar Category for the preceding three-year and five-year periods. Most of the Northern Trust Focus Funds have performed worse than between 70% and 95% of the hundreds of funds within their respective Morningstar Categories for the past three-year and five-year periods. The Northern Trust Focus Funds have also continued underperforming the Morningstar Lifetime Moderate Index and S&P Target Date Index. The overall breadth and depth of the Northern Trust Focus Funds' underperformance raises a plausible inference that Defendants' fund selection and monitoring process for the Plan was tainted by a failure of competency or effort.

38. In the tables below, Plaintiff demonstrates the underperformance of the ten Northern Trust Focus Funds that have been in the Plan for the entire Class Period compared to the S&P Target Date Index, the Morningstar Lifetime Moderate Index, and the Comparator Funds at various periods since 2010. The data presented below was available to Defendants throughout the proposed Class Period in real-time.

39. The Comparator Funds listed in the tables below (American Funds, T. Rowe Price and Vanguard) pursue the same investment objectives as the Northern Trust Focus Funds, are managed by well-known investment advisers, and are available to all large retirement plans. Defendants would not have had to scour the market to find them.

40. By selecting the Northern Trust Focus Funds and then failing to remove them from the Plan, Defendants breached their fiduciary duty of prudence under ERISA. Defendants' decisions have had a profound and lasting effect on the Plan. Because of Defendants' selection of the Northern Trust Focus Funds as the target date funds for the Plan, Plaintiff and other Plan participants have together lost upwards of $65 million in retirement savings since 2014.

i. Northern Trust Focus 2010 Fund

41. The Northern Trust (NT) Focus 2010 Fund's underperformance dates to its inception. Table 1.a below, illustrates nearly four years of underperformance leading up to the Class Period, relative to benchmark indexes and Comparator Funds.

Table 1.a

Fund	Cumulative	Annualized
NT Focus 2010	34.99%	7.96%
Vanguard 2010	40.03%	8.98%
T Rowe Price 2010	45.25%	10.00%
American Funds 2010	43.30%	9.62%
S&P 2010 TD BM	37.22%	8.41%
DJ US 2010 TD BM	33.93%	7.74%

42. A prudent fiduciary would have used the indexes and Comparator Funds listed in Table 1.a above as benchmarks for the performance of the Northern Trust Focus 2010 Fund. Morningstar also places the Northern Trust Focus 2010 Fund in its Target Date 2000-2010 Morningstar Category along with the Comparator Funds managed by American Funds, T. Rowe Price and Vanguard.⁵

43. Despite four years of substantial underperformance, Defendants did not remove the Northern Trust Focus 2010 Fund from the Plan. Predictably, the underperformance continued throughout the Class Period from October 30, 2014 through December 31, 2019.

⁵ Although Vanguard offered the Vanguard Target Retirement 2010 Trust as a collective investment trust to 401(k) plans, Vanguard discontinued its target date 2010 strategy in 2017, as its asset allocation became substantially identical to the Target Retirement Income Fund. Plaintiff could not access Morningstar archived performance data for the Vanguard Target Retirement 2010 Trust.

44. Table 1.b below illustrates the underperformance of the Northern Trust Focus 2010 Fund from 2014-1H2020 on an annualized basis. Furthermore, the differences in annual performance are even more pronounced when compounded over time. Thus, as the table demonstrates, the Northern Trust Focus 2010 Fund also significantly underperformed the benchmark indexes and Comparator Funds⁶ on a cumulative basis.

45. Put in a broader context, according to Morningstar, the 2010 Fund's performance has been worse than 81% of funds in Target Date 2010 Morningstar Category for the past three-year and five-year periods. In those periods, there have been between 88 and 108 funds in that Morningstar Category.

46. At the beginning of the Class Period in 2014, the assets of the Northern Trust Focus 2010 Fund totaled approximately $13 million. Table 1.c below shows the hypothetical growth of $13 million invested in the Northern Trust Focus 2010 Fund and each of the Comparator Funds from January 1, 2014 through June 30, 2020. As the table makes clear, Defendants' failure to replace the Northern Trust Focus 2010 Fund with one of these Comparator Funds in 2014 resulted in the Plan losing upwards of $619,000 in retirement savings.

48. A prudent fiduciary would have used the indexes and Comparator Funds listed in Table 2.a above as benchmarks for the performance of the Northern Trust Focus 2015 Fund. Morningstar also places the Northern Trust Focus 2015 Fund in its Target Date 2015 Morningstar Category along with the Comparator Funds managed by American Funds, T. Rowe Price and Vanguard.

49. Despite four years of substantial underperformance, Defendants did not remove the Northern Trust Focus 2015 Fund from the Plan. Predictably, the underperformance continued throughout the Class Period.

Thus, as the table demonstrates, the Northern Trust Focus 2015 Fund also significantly underperformed the benchmark indexes and Comparator Funds on a cumulative basis.

51. Put in a broader context, according to Morningstar, the Northern Trust Focus 2015 Fund performed worse than 87% and 77% of all funds in the Target Date 2015 Morningstar Category for the preceding three-year and five-year periods, respectively. In those periods, there have been between 79 and 109 funds in the Target Date 2015 Morningstar Category.

52. At the beginning of the Class Period in 2014, the assets of the Plan that were invested in the Northern Trust Focus 2015 Fund totaled approximately $66.4 million. Table 2.c below shows the hypothetical growth of $66.4 million invested in the Northern Trust Focus 2015 Fund and each of the Comparator Funds from January 1, 2014 through June 30, 2020. As the table makes clear, Defendants' failure to replace the Northern Trust Focus 2015 Fund with one of these Comparator Funds in 2014 resulted in the Plan losing upwards of $4.35 million in retirement savings.

viii. Northern Trust Focus 2045 Fund:

83. The Northern Trust Focus 2045 Fund's underperformance dates to its inception. Table 8.a, below, illustrates nearly four years of underperformance leading up to the Class Period, relative to benchmark indexes and Comparator Funds.

Table 8.a2010-2013

Fund	Cumulative	Annualized
NT Focus 2045	55.15%	11.87%
Vanguard 2045	66.83%	13.96%
T Rowe Price 2045	72.79%	14.98%
American Funds 2045	69.28%	14.38%
S&P 2045 TD BM	65.39%	13.71%
DJ US 2045 TD BM	86.93%	17.32%

84. A prudent fiduciary would have used the indexes and Comparator Funds listed in Table 8.a above as benchmarks for the performance of the Northern Trust Focus 2045 Fund. Again, one of Northern Trust's largest client retirement plans uses the S&P Target Date 2045 as the benchmark index for the Northern Trust Focus 2045 Fund. Morningstar also places the Northern Trust Focus 2045 Fund in its Target Date 2045 Morningstar Category along with the Comparator Funds managed by American Funds, T. Rowe Price and Vanguard.

85. Despite four years of substantial underperformance, Defendants did not remove the Northern Trust Focus 2045 Fund from the Plan. Predictably, the underperformance continued throughout the Class Period.

86. Table 8.b below illustrates the underperformance of the Northern Trust Focus 2045 Fund from January 1, 2014 through June 30, 2020 on an annualized basis. Furthermore, the differences in annual performance are even pronounced when compounded over time. Thus, as the table demonstrates, the Northern Trust Focus 2045 Fund also significantly underperformed the benchmark indexes and Comparator Funds on a cumulative basis.

87. Put in a broader context, according to Morningstar, the Northern Trust Focus 2045 Fund performed worse than 78% and 95% of all funds in the Target Date 2045 Morningstar Category in the preceding three-year and five-year periods, respectively. During those periods, there have been between 144 and 181 funds in the Target Date 2045 Morningstar Category.

88. At the beginning of the Class Period in 2014, the assets of the Northern Trust Focus 2045 Trust Fund totaled approximately $14.4 million. Table 8.c below shows the hypothetical growth of $14.4 million invested in the Northern Trust Focus 2045 Fund and each of the comparator funds from January 1, 2014 through June 30, 2020. As the table makes clear, Defendants' failure to replace the Northern Trust Focus 2045 Fund with one of the Comparator Funds in 2014 resulted in the Plan losing upwards of $4.01 million in retirement savings.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

101. ERISA § 502(a)(2), 29 U.S.C. § 1132(a)(2), authorizes any participant or beneficiary of a retirement plan to bring an action individually on behalf of that plan to enforce a breaching fiduciary's liability to the plan under 29 U.S.C. § 1109(a). Such claims are brought "in a representative capacity on behalf of the plan as a whole." Massachusetts Mut. Life Ins. Co. v. Russell, 473 U.S. 134, 142 (1985).

102. The claims set forth in this action meet the requirements of Rule 23, and class certification would be appropriate with respect to the following class (the "Class"):

All participants and beneficiaries of the Plan who invested in any of Northern Trust Focus Target Retirement Trusts from October 30, 2014 through December 31, 2019, excluding Defendants, any of their directors, and any officers or employees of Defendants with responsibility for the Plan's investment or administrative function.

103. The Class includes tens of thousands of members and is so large that joinder of all its members is impracticable.

104. There are numerous questions of law and fact common to the Class because the claims asserted herein arise out of a singular course of common conduct by Defendants that affected all class members through their participation in the Plan in precisely the same way, in violation of precisely the same legal duties. Thus, common questions of law and fact include the following, without limitation:

- Whether Defendants are fiduciaries liable for the remedies provided by 29 U.S.C. §1109(a);
- Whether Defendants breached their fiduciary duties to the Plan by employing an imprudent process for monitoring and evaluating Plan investment options;
- Whether the Plaintiff's claims of an imprudent process require similar inquiries and proof of the claims and therefore implicate the same set of concerns for all proposed members of the Class;
- What are the losses to the Plan resulting from each breach of fiduciary duty; and
- What Plan-wide equitable and other relief the Court should impose in light of Defendants' breach of duty.

105. There are no substantial individual questions of law or fact among Class members on the merits of this Action.

106. Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of the Class because she was a participant during the time period at issue in this action and all participants in the Plan were harmed by Defendants' misconduct.

107. Plaintiff is an adequate representative of the Class because she was a participant in the Plan during the Class period, has no interest that conflicts with the Class, is committed to the vigorous representation of the Class, and has engaged experienced and competent attorneys to represent the Class.

108. Certification of the claims asserted herein would be appropriate under Rule 23(b)(1)(A) or (B). Prosecution of separate actions for these breaches of fiduciary duties by individual participants and beneficiaries would create the risk of inconsistent or varying adjudications that would establish incompatible standards of conduct for Defendants in respect to the discharge of their fiduciary duties to the Plan and personal liability to the Plan under 29 U.S.C. §1109(a). In addition, an adjudication of the claims asserted herein by any Plan participant would, as a practical matter, be dispositive of the interests of all other Plan participants. As this Court has recognized several times, “[b]ecause of ERISA’s distinctive ‘representative capacity’ and remedial provisions, ERISA litigation of this nature presents a paradigmatic example of a Rule 23(1) class.” Neil v. Zell, 275 F.R.D. 256, 267 (N.D. Ill. 2011).

109. Alternatively, this action should be certified as a class under Rule 23(b)(3) if it is not certified under Rule 23(b)(1)(A) or (B). A class action is the superior method for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy because common questions of law and fact predominate over questions affecting only individual class members, and because, in light of the representative nature of the claims at issue, a class action would be superior to other available methods for fairly and efficiently adjudicating the controversy.

110. Plaintiff’s counsel, Law Offices of Michael M. Mulder and Scott+Scott Attorneys at Law LLP will fairly and adequately represent the interests of the Class and is best able to represent the interests of the Class under Rule 23(g).

CAUSES OF ACTION

COUNT I

Breach of Fiduciary Duty of Prudence
(Violation of ERISA, 29 U.S.C. §1104)
(Against All Defendants)

111. Plaintiff repeats and realleges each of the allegations in the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

112. As alleged above, at all relevant times during the Class Period, the Defendants were express fiduciaries for the Plan and/or acted as fiduciaries within the meaning of 29 U.S.C. § 1002(21)(A) by exercising authority and control with respect to the management of the Plan and its assets.

113. ERISA § 404, 29 U.S.C. § 1104, requires ERISA fiduciaries to perform their fiduciary duties and responsibilities prudently, as would an experienced ERISA fiduciary, and loyally, exclusively in the interest of the plan and its participants for the purpose of providing benefits.

114. Defendants' fiduciary duties include administering the Plan with the care, skill, diligence, and prudence required by ERISA. As such, Defendants must evaluate and monitor the Plan's investments on an ongoing basis, eliminate imprudent investments, and take all necessary steps to ensure the Plan's assets are invested prudently.

115. As the Supreme Court confirmed, ERISA's "duty of prudence involves a continuing duty to monitor investments and remove imprudent ones[.]" Tibble, 575 U.S. at 523.

116. Defendants breached their fiduciary duties through their imprudent process for investigating, evaluating, and monitoring investments. The faulty process resulted in a plan loaded with the Northern Trust Focus Funds that have exhibited chronic poor performance for almost a decade. Defendants failed to remove the Funds despite their historical underperformance relative to other target date collective investment trusts and relevant benchmark indexes.

117. By failing to adequately consider better-performing investment products for the Plan, Defendants failed to discharge their duties with the care, skill, prudence, and diligence that a prudent fiduciary acting in a like capacity and familiar with such matters would use in the conduct of an enterprise of like character and with like aims.

118. Defendants' breach of fiduciary duty has substantially impaired the Plan's use, its value, and its investment performance for all Class Members.

119. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' breaches of fiduciary duty, the Plan and each of its participants who invested in the Funds have suffered tens of millions of dollars of damages and lost-opportunity costs which continue to accrue.

120. Defendants' actions, and failures to act, violated the duties of prudence and loyalty contained in ERISA § 404(a).

121. ERISA § 502(a)(2) permits plan participants, such as Plaintiff, to bring civil actions for "appropriate relief" under ERISA § 409.

122. Under ERISA § 409(a), 29 U.S.C. § 1109(a), a fiduciary that violates any of ERISA's duties, including ERISA § 404(a), must "make good" to the plan the losses to the plan resulting from its violations, and is "subject to such other equitable or remedial relief as the court may deem appropriate."

123. Thus, under ERISA §§ 502(a)(2) and 409(a), 29 U.S.C. §§ 1132(a)(2) and 1109(a), Defendants are liable, in an amount to be determined at trial, for the losses to the Plan caused by their violations of ERISA § 404(a), and are "subject to such other equitable or remedial relief" as the Court "may deem appropriate."

124. Under ERISA § 502(a)(3), Defendants are also subject to appropriate equitable relief including, but not limited to, constructive trust and equitable surcharge.

COUNT II
Breach of Co-Fiduciary Duty
ERISA § 405(a)(1)-(3), 29 U.S.C. § 1105(a)(1)-(3)
All Defendants

125. Plaintiff repeats and realleges each of the allegations in the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

126. A fiduciary with respect to a plan is liable for the breach “of another fiduciary” for the same plan if “he participates knowingly in, or knowingly undertakes to conceal, an act or omissions of such other fiduciary, knowing such act or omission is a breach,” ERISA § 405(a)(1), or if, “by his failure to comply with [his fiduciary duties] in the administration of his specific responsibilities which give rise to his status as a fiduciary, he has enabled such other fiduciary to commit a breach,” ERISA § 405(a)(2), or if “he has knowledge of a breach by some other fiduciary, unless he makes reasonable efforts under the circumstances to remedy the breach.” ERISA § 405(a)(3).

127. Pursuant to § 405 of ERISA, 29 U.S.C. § 1105, Defendants are also liable as co-fiduciaries with respect to the above-described violations because they participated knowingly in their co-fiduciaries’ breaches; enabled other fiduciaries to violate ERISA by virtue of their own breaches of fiduciary duty; knowingly undertook to conceal those breaches; enabled their co-fiduciaries to commit the breaches and failed to make any reasonable efforts to remedy the breaches.

128. ERISA § 502(a)(2) permits plan participants, such as Plaintiff, to bring civil actions for “appropriate relief” under ERISA § 409.

129. Under ERISA § 409(a), a fiduciary that violates any of ERISA’s duties, including ERISA § 405(a)(1), (a)(2) and (a)(3), must “make good” to the Plan the losses to the Plan resulting from its violations of ERISA § 405(a)(1), (a)(2) and (a)(3), and is “subject to such other equitable or remedial relief as the court may deem appropriate.”

130. Thus, Defendants are liable, in an amount to be determined at trial, for the losses to the Plan caused by their violations of ERISA § 405(a)(1), (a)(2) and (a)(3), and are “subject to such other equitable or remedial relief” as the Court “may deem appropriate.”

131. Under ERISA § 502(a)(3), Defendants are also subject to appropriate equitable relief including, but not limited to, constructive trust and equitable surcharge.

COUNT III
Failure to Monitor
(Against All Defendants)

132. Plaintiff repeats and realleges each of the allegations in the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

133. Defendants had a duty to monitor the performance of each individual to whom they delegated any fiduciary responsibilities.

134. A monitoring fiduciary must ensure that the monitored fiduciaries are performing their fiduciary obligations, including those with respect to the investment and holding of plan assets, and must take prompt and effective action to protect the plan and participants when they are not.

135. To the extent any of the Defendant’s fiduciary responsibilities were delegated to another fiduciary, the Defendant’s monitoring duty included an obligation to ensure that any delegated tasks were being performed prudently and loyally.

136. Defendants breached their fiduciary monitoring duties by, among other things:

a. failing to monitor their appointees, to evaluate their performance, or to have a system in place for doing so, and standing idly by as the Plan suffered enormous losses as a result of their appointees' imprudent actions and omissions with respect to the Plan;

b. failing to monitor their appointees' fiduciary process, which would have alerted any prudent fiduciary to the potential breach because of the imprudent investment options in violation of ERISA;

c. failing to ensure that the monitored fiduciaries had a prudent process in place for evaluating and ensuring that the Funds were prudent; and

d. failing to remove appointees whose performance was inadequate in that they continued to allow imprudent investment options to remain in the Plan to the detriment of Plan participants' retirement savings.

137. Each fiduciary who delegated its fiduciary responsibilities likewise breached its fiduciary monitoring duty by, among other things:

a. failing to monitor its appointees, to evaluate their performance, or to have a system in place for doing so, and standing idly by as the Plan suffered enormous losses as a result of its appointees' imprudent actions and omissions with respect to the Plan;

b. failing to monitor its appointees' fiduciary process, which would have alerted any prudent fiduciary to the potential breach because of the imprudent investment options in violation of ERISA;

c. failing to implement a process to ensure that the appointees monitored the performance of Plan investments; and

d. failing to remove appointees whose performance was inadequate in that they continued to allow imprudent investment options to remain in the Plan, all to the detriment of Plan participants' retirement savings.

138. As a direct result of these breaches of the fiduciary duty to monitor, the Plan suffered substantial losses. Had Defendants and the other delegating fiduciaries prudently discharged their fiduciary monitoring duties, the Plan would not have suffered these losses.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff, on behalf of the Plan and all similarly situated Plan participants and beneficiaries, prays for judgment as follows:

A. Certify this action as a class action pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a), appoint Plaintiff as the class representative, and appoint the Law Offices of Michael M. Mulder and Scott+Scott Attorneys at Law LLP as Class Counsel;

B. Declare that Defendants breached their fiduciary duties to the Plan;

C. Enjoin Defendants from further violations of their fiduciary responsibilities, obligations, and duties and from further engaging in transactions prohibited by ERISA;

D. Order that Defendants make good to the Plan the losses resulting from their serial breaches of fiduciary duty;

E. Order that Defendants disgorge any profits that they have made through their breaches of fiduciary duty and impose a constructive trust and/or equitable lien on any funds received by Defendants therefrom;

F. Order any other available equitable relief, or remedies, including but not limited to, the imposition of a surcharge, the restoration of the Plan to the position they would have been but for the breaches of fiduciary duty; and any other kind of relief and/or damages available pursuant to ERISA §§ 409 and 502(a)(2) and (3);

G. Reform the Plan to include only prudent investments;

H. Award Plaintiff reasonable attorneys' fees and costs of suit incurred herein pursuant to ERISA § 502(g), 29 U.S.C. § 1132(g), and/or for the benefit obtained for the Plan;
